POPIA POLICY

In terms of section 14 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996, everyone has the right to privacy, that includes a right to protection against the unlawful collection, retention, dissemination and use of personal information. To respect, protect, promote and fulfil these the State has enacted the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013 (Act 4 of 2013)

POPIA is an acronym used for the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013 (Act 4 of 2013) and this acronym will be used in all of this company’s documentation when any reference is made to the Protection of Personal Information Act, 2013.

The main purposes of POPIA are: -

1. To promote the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies.
2. To introduce certain conditions so as to establish minimum requirements for the processing of personal information.
3. Regulate the manner in which personal information may be processed.
4. Establishing conditions, that prescribe the requirements for the lawful processing of personal information.
5. To provide for the issuing of codes of conduct.
6. To provide for the rights of persons regarding unsolicited electronic communications and automated decision making.
7. To regulate the flow of personal information across the borders of the Republic.

INTRODUCTION

Safety First Safety Always (Pty) Ltd (Registration number: 2019/307370/07) (hereinafter referred to as “the company”) is a “Private Body” as determined by POPIA. In the normal course of its business, it will be collecting, retaining, disseminating, using, and processing personal information of its clients to enable them to carry out its contractual duties, whether expressly and/or tacitly agreed.

The company wholly subscribe, respect and support the rights and privileges conferred on all citizens of the Republic in terms of the Bill of Rights and it endeavours to comply to the best of its ability to all the laws of the land.

The company and its personnel are committed to protect its clients’ right to privacy and assures our clients that their Personal Information will be used appropriately, transparently, securely and in accordance with the applicable laws.

The policy is available on our website www.sdfcorp.co.za and will also be provided on request. A copy of our POPIA Manual is available on request as prescribed in sections 14 and 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act, 2000 (Act No. 2 of 2000).

POLICY

Our clients can rest assured that the company will respect and protect their rights to privacy and the confidentiality of their personal information collected, processed, and stored by it.

The company will only require and process your personal information for the purposes of rendering its services in a competent and professional manner, meaning it will only be processed for the purposes collected and it will ensure that the information obtained is adequate, relevant and not excessive.

It is our policy that clients’ personal information will only be obtained, processed, and stored in terms of the conditions for lawful processing of personal information as set out in Chapter 3 Part A of POPIA. These conditions are: -

- Condition 1 – Accountability
- Condition 2 – Processing limitation
- Condition 3 – Purpose specification
- Condition 4 – Further processing limitation
- Condition 5 – Information quality
- Condition 6 – Openness
- Condition 7 – Security safeguards
- Condition 8 – Data Subject participation

Due to the nature of its business and in the process of the fulfilment of our contractual obligations to our clients we will have to share some or all of the personal information obtained from a client with product providers and/or operators in order for them to be able to provide the client with suitable advice and/or products and to keep records as required in legislation applicable to the industry.

It is therefore our policy that we shall not share any personal information with any product provider and/or operator unless we are satisfied that we have sufficient safeguards in place to convince us that we shall respect and protect our clients’ right to privacy with the same commitment as they do.

In terms of the personal information in our possession and/or control their clients have the following rights in order to protect and safeguard their personal information: -

- The Right to Access of their personal information
- The Right to Object to the processing of their personal information
- The Right to have their personal information Corrected or Deleted
- The Right to Object to have their personal information processed for the purpose of direct marketing
- The Right to Complain to the Information Regulator
- The Right to be Informed

		Revision: 0

- that their personal information is being collected
- that their personal information has been accessed by or acquired by unauthorised person/s.

It is further our policy that we shall assist our clients as far as possible to exercise any of their rights set out above.

It is our policy that we only keep personal information of our clients for as long as is required from us in terms of the applicable legislation in the financial services industry and/or as required in terms of other relevant South African legislation.

The financial services legislation requires us to keep records of clients' records for a period of 5 years after termination of the financial product concerned or after termination of the business relationship between the client and the institution whichever is the longest.

Should a client have a complaint about any alleged unlawful access and/or processing of their personal information, they must immediately contact our Information Officer at our business address. You will then be provided with the necessary forms and procedures for lodging a complaint. Should you so desire the company will assist you and take whatever steps in their power to help you minimise your exposure and/or any damages or potential damages you may suffer as a result thereof.
